

"Treasure Island" at Children's Theatre

Over 260 boys and girls from Aireborough Grammar School formed the bulk of the audience at the Albert Hall, Leeds, last night, and thoroughly enjoyed Roger Williams' dramatisation of Stevenson's story, "Treasure Island."

Arthur Cox, the producer, gave a convincing portrayal of Long John Silver. Ernest Beaumont (Captain Smollett), Ladley Pearson (Squire Trelawney), Arthur Ridley (Ben Gunn), and Peter Nichols (Jim Hawkins) gave admirable support.

The Leeds Arts Centre is to be congratulated on providing such wholesome fare for their Children's Theatre.

Repeat performances will be given each night this week, with a matinee on Saturday.
