

LEEDS ARTS CENTRE

NEWSLETTER NO. 21.

APRIL, 1989.

Spring is here, so they say, although it's been a little soggy of late. Not to worry, however, we are sure tonight's show will brighten things up.

"LIVING TOGETHER" from the prolific pen of Yorkshire playwright Alan Ayckbourn is one of three plays which combine to form THE NORMAN CONQUESTS. Joyce King, the Producer of LIVING TOGETHER, made her debut as a Producer in 1981 with "Round and Round the Garden" another play from The Norman Conquest trilogy.

Norman and Annie have planned a weekend away together. Sarah and Reg have come to look after Mother. A simple plot, you may think, just wait and see.....

We hope you have a right rollicking time at this evening's performance.

On Friday 28th April we have a production of BILLY LIAR being performed in our GREEN ROOM at Stansfeld Chambers. You will be most welcome. The entertainment starts at 7.30 p.m. AND, OF COURSE, where would we be without the L.A.C. Jumble Sale - Saturday 13th May at St. Columba's Church, Headingley.

We have nearly reached the conclusion of yet another successful season, our final production being "CELEBRATION", a Waterhouse and Hall comedy which takes to the stage on Tuesday 20th June.

Our 1989/90 Season has just about been formulated and we will be able to give you full details in the Newsletter accompanying our June production programme. However, advance notice.... our October production will be William Shakespeare's HAMLET.

If you have enjoyed tonight's play, please come back in June for another dose of comedy.
