THE FATHER

Now 80 years old, André was once a tap dancer. He lives with his daughter Anna and her husband Antoine. Or was he an engineer whose daughter Anne lives in London with her new lover, Pierre? The thing is, he is still wearing his pyjamas, and he can't find his watch. He's starting to think that he might be losing control. In this beautiful study of a father/daughter relationship we (the audience) accompany a man descending into dementia. It is both funny and heart-breaking.

Reviews from when the play was first performed:

 "A savagely honest study of dementia" - The Guardian

 "An unqualified triumph" - The Telegraph

"I feel as if I'm losing all my leaves, one after another."
