GEORGE BOLD IS A SAFECRACKER WITH A DIFFERENCE - HE HAS PRINCIPLES!

Crafty Leeds blacksmith George is a family man, notorious for being second to none with a cutting torch - until a sabbatical forces him onto the straight and narrow.

His long-suffering sons are distraught when they hear that he is up to his old tricks again - but will their plotting and scheming be enough to stop George from finally being able to work 'properly' again...?

Deception, romance, moral dilemmas and surprise encounters all feature in Alan Buttery's adaptation of Curth Flatow's classic comedy, 'Das Geld liegt auf der Bank'.
