THE LEEDS CHILDREN'S THEATRE was formed in the late 1920's by a group of enthusiastic school teachers in the city, whose aim it was to provide suitable entertainment for children at a price they could all afford. Since then productions have been given every year with the exception of the period 1940-1946, when all activities ceased owing to the war. In 1947, however, the members set to work to restart the Theatre and after their initial production became a group of the Leeds Art Centre.

Post-war productions include:

“ Little Boy Blue ”

“ A Christmas Fantasia ”

“ Best Man Wins ”

“ Treasure Island ”

“ Aladdin's Lamp ”

Our grateful thanks are due to the teachers, who have co-operated with us so willingly in bringing school parties. We welcome all who are interested in our work, which includes the making of costumes and the construction and painting of scenery and invite suggestions for future productions.
